Legislation and Regulation – Domestic

Market Access: France and Italy

Bilateral negotiations with both countries should help creating a framework for the provision of cross-border financial services – as agreed between Italy and Switzerland in the Roadmap 2015. In the meantime the two countries decided to adopt a strict implementation of MiFID II, which requires the local presence of a branch for the provision of financial services to domestic private clients, irrespective of them being retail or wealthy.

SWIFT: sanctions screening

SWIFT is preparing an offering for banks to screen transactions against applicable sanctions. The tool shall allow financial intermediaries to fully outsource this function and to benefit from the availability of a common database which is updated on an ongoing basis. Questions remain with respect to data protection, as the servers are located in Switzerland and the Netherlands; a Switzerland-only solution might become available provided sufficient interest.

Legislation on Financial Services and Financial Institutes

Since the National Council's preparatory commission was unable to resolve all discrepancies in the draft law with the State's Council, the plenary debate will not take place before spring 2018. Entry into force of the legislation can thus not be expected before summer 2019.

Tax Identification Number

The Swiss Federal Tax Administration reminds that in the context of the automatic exchange of fiscal information special tax identification numbers shall be required. For natural persons resident in Switzerland the AHV/AVS number shall be used; for legal entities incorporated in Switzerland the Legal Entity Identifier. Info: DE FR IT

Labour Law

In the context of the debate about a revision of the labour law, the Schweizerischer Gewerbeverband / Union suisse des arts et métiers made suggestions. It asks to increase the maximum duration of working hours to 50, to offer more flexibility for the management of work. It also suggests to grant more flexibility for the management of breaks, time off, and to assure alignment of the regulation to the size of firms. Info: DE only

The Federal Council increases the contingents for workers from non-EU countries (8000 instead of 7500) and services providers from EU/EFTA countries (3500 instead of 2250). The new thresholds are applicable from 1.1.2018. Info: DE FR IT

Legislation and Regulation – International

EU: PRIIPS and KIDS

The EU Commission issued guidelines clarifying that the obligation for the manufacturer to issue relevant investor documentation applies in all instances of distribution to retail investors, even if the latter does not distribute itself but through third parties. Beware of the exemption that a KID is not required if the PRIIP is offered exclusively outside of the EU; a careful assessment will have to be made if such offer also targets EU-domiciled clients. Info: PRIIPS Regulation: LINK – KID Regulation: LINK – Application: LINK

VAT on E-Commerce

Contrary to what was initially expected the EU implementation of the OECD guidance on VAT on e-commerce will take more time. It is planned to introduce the standards for B2B sale of goods for a five years test phase in 2019, followed by a thorough impact assessment. EU countries remain in disagreement on key points. Decisions on matters such as VAT require unanimity.
